

Worry Box Template

Cut out the template and make it into a box. This box can be used as a post box for young people to post their worry slips in. It would be worth writing on the box when the box will be opened and checked by an adult so young people know when they will be able to speak to someone about their worries.